Taste & Tunes

Madison's Main Street looked like curb-to-curb people at Saturday's Soup, Stew, Chili & Brew event as patrons tasted the food and drink and listened to live music on three separate stages.

Main Street was filled with people Saturday for another successful Soup Stew Chili & Brew — the 23rd in the history of that event.

“It was a good, beautiful day,” said Alex Helton, executive director of the Madison Area Chamber of Commerce. “The vendors seemed very pleased with the turnout. It felt like people were very happy.”

This year's event featured 53 vendors on Main Street from Jefferson to Broadway streets that Helton said attracted crowds throughout the footprint on the festival area. “Every block you went, you were hitting a line of people, so it wasn't dominated by one specific vendor,” she said. “The love was pretty spread out this year” to all of the vendors no matter where they were located.

One draw to the western part of the festival area was the Kids Zone at the Main Street parking lot alongside Poplar Street that was free this year due of the sponsorship of Premier Gutters. “I think that helped encourage people to move that direction,” Helton said.

Madison Presbyterian Church hosted a baby changing station that was a first-time addition to the event that started in 2002. “That was such a thoughtful aspect that people were taking advantage” for families with children “to ensure people continue to have that experience is really, really cool,” she said.

Helton said she is “grateful to everyone” who was involved in putting on this year's Soup, Stew, Chili & Brew. “I am really appreciative to everyone for supporting it.”

Awards were presented in each category — soup, stew, chili and brew.

Madison Elks Lodge No. 524 has been participating in event for the last few years without finishing among the award winners, but this year took first place in two categories — chili and soup.

The Elks' white chicken chili was the combined work of Sue Johnson and Lynn Heitz McKay from a recipe McKay has been making for 40 years that included a few slight adjustments for this year's event based on suggestions from Johnson. “I put the chicken in the crock pot with verde sauce, and let it sit” for two days then added clove, oregano and cumin. “Everyone loved it. People were coming back for more and more,” she said. “It was gone in one and one-half hours.” The winning taco soup for the Elks Lodge came from a recipe by Cindi Quick.

Historic Eagle Cotton Mill Fairfield by Marriott Inn won first place for best stew — Sweet Heat Stew that was an Asian inspired stew with braised pork, a recipe by Sam Bertsch, the food and beverage manager at the hotel, in which she received assistance from Macy Lyons, the assistant general manager. This was the first year for the

Cotton Mill to participate in the Soup, Stew, Chili & Brew. “It was a great experience interacting with the community,” said

Madison man charged for possession of child sexual abuse materials

By THE COURIER STAFF

A Madison man was arrested last week on numerous charges related to child sexual abuse material.

Tyler W. Perry, 36, Madison, faces 40 felony counts including Promotion of Child Sexual Trafficking, Child Exploitation, Child Solicitation, Neglect of a Dependent, Vicarious Sexual Gratification and Identity Deception. He also faces a misdemeanor count of Contributing to the Delinquency of a Minor.

Charges were filed Thursday following an investigation that began Monday, Oct. 6, by Madison Police Department Detective Ricky Harris after receiving a report that Perry allegedly had been receiving nude photographs from a juvenile.

During the course of the investigation, a search warrant for Perry's residence was obtained. Upon execution of the warrant, investigators seized multiple electronic devices, including computers, cell phones, hard drives, and other digital storage media.

Police said evidence collected during the investigation indicated that Perry had allegedly coerced a juvenile to produce child sexual abuse material (CSAM), which he then stored digitally. During a forensic extraction of the seized devices, detectives located a significant quantity of CSAM.

Following the search and an interview with Perry, he was taken into custody and transported to the Jefferson County Sheriff's Office and Criminal Justice Center. An initial hearing was scheduled for 9 a.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 14, before Jefferson Circuit Judge D.J. Mote.

Detective Harris was assisted by MPD Detective Kyle Cutshaw, Jefferson County Sheriff's Department Detective Yancy Denning, MPD Sergeant Wayne Phillips Sr., and MPD Patrolmen Jordan Perry, William Adams, Andrew Gibbs and Jeremiah Douglas. Also assisting were the Jefferson County Prosecutor's Office, the Child Advocacy Center of Southeastern Indiana and the Dearborn County High Tech Crimes Unit.

The investigation remains ongoing, and additional charges may be filed as further evidence is reviewed.

Madison man arrested on Jennings warrant

Elsewhere, Kameron Scroggin, 21, Madison, was arrested Friday on charges of child molestation based on a Jennings County Circuit Court arrest warrant.

Scroggin has been charged with Child Molesting, a Level 3 felony, and Sexual Misconduct with a Minor, a Level 5 felony, and is being held in the Jennings County Jail without bond.

The investigation began when detectives were contacted by the family of a 12-year-old juvenile, who allegedly disclosed to family members that the juvenile was sexually abused by Scroggin, who was a family friend. Scroggin admitted to the abuse in an interview with detectives.

Jennings County Detective Allen Ritchie was assisted by The Indiana Department of Child Services.

Eleutherian College Fall Gathering Saturday

By THE COURIER STAFF
Historic Eleutherian College’s annual Fall Gathering is Saturday, Oct. 18, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. for a day of storytelling, history, music, tours and more.

The tradition began after the Lancaster Township School at College Hill closed in 1938, with the former students coming back to gather annually and share stories about their school days.

Sixty years later when Dotti Reindollar and Jae Breitweiser purchased the College building from Historic Madison Inc. they organized an annual day of tours, presentations and demonstrations each fall. The current board of directors is pleased to carrying on these traditions.

The building will be open for tours and families are encouraged to bring picnic lunches to enjoy the grounds.

Victor Pacheco, an award-winning senior at Shawe Memorial High School, will perform on the viola at 10 a.m.

Victoria Garner, a fifth generation granddaughter of Abraham Walton, one of the founders of the Eleutherian College will present “Walton Roots” at 11 a.m. This journey though history will showcase Walton’s strength, perseverance and courage in the underground railroad and beyond. Original paintings by Gayle Walton will be on display.

At 1 p.m., Dr. Sean O’Neill, professor of archeology at Hanover College, will review findings and new opportunities for discovery in Lancaster township.

At 2 p.m., Phyllis McLaughlin of Twist-eds Roots Genealogy will share her latest research into the granddaughters of President Thomas Jefferson. Their father, Robert brought them to Indiana to attend the Eleutherian College.

At 3 p.m. the Eleutheri-an College board of directors will pause to celebrate the life of former board member, Meghan Brown Bahlke, who died in September. Acapella singers, Lindsey Bloos and Kelley Hoagland will sing old favorite hymns and songs.

The fall gathering caps a summer of monthly Ohio River Valley Symposium events made possible by the Jefferson County Board of Tourism and organized by artist and poet, Patty Cooper Wells.

The college is located in Lancaster at 6927 West State Road 250, Madison. The fall gathering is free but donations are encouraged.

'I am Frankenstein' to be performed at MCHS

By BOB DEMAREE
Madison Theatre is setting the tone for the upcoming Halloween season with this weekend's performance of "I am Frankenstein" at Madison Consolidated High School's Opal Sherman Auditorium.

"If you're looking for an awesome Halloween event to go to, an event to go to that will get you in the holiday spirit, an event that can actually scare you a little bit, I highly advise you to go see it," said Luca Alcorn, who plays the role of Victor Frankenstein. "It's going to be an amazing show."

The play, adapted by John Haman from the novel written by Mary Shelley in 1818, tells the story of Victor, a promising student obsessed with alchemy, who reanimates life in a basement laboratory, only to abandon his creature.

For some, there could be a misconception that Frankenstein is the monster, but the monster is actually the creature that Victor Frankenstein created in his laboratory.

Adavious Gigax, who plays the creature, said Victor "takes bodies from graveyards and pieces them together," resulting in a creature who "moves in a way he can't necessarily really control his body."

Alcorn said, "Victor wanted to create life, but the problem is that he didn't comprehend that when the creature was brought into the world and brought to life, he looks horrifying. He has stitches everywhere, and he walks and talks strangely. Victor learns very soon that he made a mistake."

Anna Guzman, who plays author Mary Shelley, serving as narrator in the play, explains the parallels between Shelley and Frankenstein.

"It tells a little bit of her life story and how she got to the point of writing Frankenstein," said Guzman, noting Shelley had "the feelings of mistakes, never belonging and being a social outcast" that are feelings shared by the creature. "You can be empathetic towards the creature. You can see why he was like that in that he was created to be a monster. That was his destiny" but in being pieced together, the creature didn't know how function while also being rejected by society.

"It's an emotional story and thought provoking, and sweet moments of love and acceptance," said Guzman.

Performances are Friday and Saturday at 7 p.m., and Saturday and Sunday at 2:30 p.m. Admission online is $14 for adults and $5 for students. At the door, admission is $17 for adults and $7 for students. For the two 2:30 p.m. matinee performances, adult tickets are $4 off. Also, VIP tickets are available at $19 online and $22 at the door for all ages and provide sitting in the first five rows.

Ellison Concessions took first place in brew with its Coconut Lemonade Shakeup. “We have been adding different syrups to our shakeups, and coconut has been a good seller, so that’s why we entered it into the competition,” said Chelsea Ryan, representing Ellison Concessions. Since Ellison began participating in the event four years ago, it has placed for awards in the past — second and third for brew both in 2023 and 2024, and third for brew in 2022.

The Schafer family, a longstanding participant in Soup, Stew, Chili & Brew, placed in three of the four categories — second for its venison veggie soup in the soup category, third for its jambalaya in the stew category and third for its smoked pork verde in the chili category. Samuel Woodfill American Legion Post No. 9 Auxiliary teamed up with Sons of the American Legion for second for its spicy chili, a recipe by Jay Yocum. CLASS 2A GIRLS SOCCER: Lady Cubs Repeat

Madison's girls soccer team celebrates winning its second-straight sectional title (above) after beating Silver Creek 4-0 on Saturday. The Cubs rolled through three sectional wins by a 21-0 margin. Madison dominates Dragons for back-to-back titles

By DAVID CAMPBELL
SELLERSBURG — Unlike most teams, which would spend the moments before a sectional championship game in quiet contemplation, Madison's girls soccer team was just the opposite, dancing to pregame music and enjoying the moment.

That level of looseness paid off well for the Lady Cubs, who took the field with clarity and quickly seized control while rolling to a 4-0 win over Silver Creek to win the team's second-straight sectional championship Saturday in Sellersburg.

In two years on the job, Madison coach Marcus Hale has learned to live with his team's pregame antics. And clearly that's working.

"They obviously have goals, but, you know, everybody gets focused differently," Hale said. "I've learned over time with them, at times, that's just what they need to do to prepare to play."

The 13th-ranked Cubs used that preparation to roll to three wins in sectional play, blasting North Harrison, Corydon and Silver Creek by a combined 21-0 margin en route to the championship.

It did not take long for Madison to establish control on Saturday night against its former tormentors from Silver Creek. While the Cubs didn't score until the 24th minute, they spent the first half attacking the Dragon goal and had a first goal called back on an offside call less than two minutes into the game.

When Madison (17-2-1) did finally break through, it was on a goal that was a thing of beauty. Senior Kyra Ayler sent a corner kick into the box and three Cubs pounced on it. The ball cleared the hands of Creek goalie Reagan Cook and Madison freshman Maggie Stivers headed it into the net for a 1-0 lead.

It was only one goal but with Silver Creek (11-6-1) limited to just three shots the entire game, it might as well have been five.

After several near misses to expand the lead, Madison finally got its second marker in the 49th minute of the second half. Ayler, the school's all-time leading scorer with 107 goals in just three seasons, worked her way into the box, juke past a defender and got Cook

Southwestern comes alive late to win third championship in 5 years

By DAVID CAMPBELL
SHELBYVILLE — Southwestern coach Cam Rogers spent much of Saturday's pregame pacing up and down the sidelines, fighting nerves. While he had all the confidence in the world in his team, he couldn't help but think he might be jinxed.

"Everybody tells me that we're the heavy favorite and we should win easily," Rogers said before the game. "I hate that."

As it turned out, everybody was right. While it took a while for the Rebels to get going, once they took over the game they never looked back while rolling to a 4-0 win over Trinity Lutheran in the Class A Boys Soccer Sectional Championship game at Southwestern (Shelby) High School on Saturday.

No. 17 Southwestern (13-2-4) spent much of the first half trying to take control of the game and Trinity Lutheran had two good looks at the net that were stopped by goalie Tryson Warren.

Southwestern finally broke through in the 22nd

Madison boys fall in sudden death shootout

By THE COURIER STAFF
BATESVILLE — Madison and Batesville went right down to the wire before Batesville claimed victory in a sudden death shootout, 2-2 (4-3) in the Class 2A Boys Soccer Sectional Championship at Batesville on Saturday.

Madison took an early lead in the 17th minute on a goal by Henry Schmidt and held that advantage until the 64th minute when Batesville tied the game. Regulation ended with the two teams still knotted 1-1.

After a scoreless first overtime, Batesville went up 2-1 on a goal five minutes into the second extra period but Gabe Pattison staved off elimination for the Cubs with a score with a minute left in the overtime to force a shootout.

Both teams hit only two shots in the first shootout with Bode Heckler and Schmidt each getting goals. In the first sudden death, Abdullah Khakwani hit a shot for Madison to force a second shot where Batesville finally claimed the victory.

Batesville (6-8-2) will host 16th-ranked Charlestown (12-3) in the regional semifinals on Wednesday. Madison ends the season with a 11-4-3 record.

Stanley lifts Cubs to 1st win of season 37-23 at Corydon

By THE COURIER STAFF
Madison senior running back Joseph Stanley galloped for 260 yards and three touchdowns and the Cubs scored their first win of the season — over future Mid-Southern Conference foe Corydon Central — 37-23 on Friday night in Corydon.

Both teams entered the game on fall break but it was the Cubs who came ready to play and hungry for a win.

Madison, losers of eight straight dating back to last year's sectional championship loss to North Harrison on Oct. 25, 2024, got back on the winning track after losses to future Mid-Southern opponents Scottsburg, Charlestown and Brownstown and four others to start the season.

The Cubs used a big second quarter, and took advantage of a Panthers team that seemed to lack energy in the opening half, to power to the 37-23 two touchdown win.

Madison senior running back Joseph Stanley eviscerated the Panthers' rush defense by carrying the ball 25 times for 260 yards and three touchdowns.

Quarterback Matt McCarty kept the Corydon defense honest by completing six of 16 passes for 135 passing yards and a touchdown. Junior wide receiver Izik Roberts led the Cubs' receivers with one catch for 46 yards while fellow junior Kyden McKay made two catches for 42 yards and a touchdown.

Corydon's Dane Naiman, making his first career start at quarterback for the Panthers, had a strong overall game, going 12-for-21 for 188 yards and a touchdown but he also threw a pair of interceptions. He led the Panthers' ground game, running 13 times for 101 yards and a score.

Kylor Vest ran 10 times for 77 yards for Corydon and Matthew Wolfe ran five times for 16 yards. Jack Fessel led the Panthers' receiving corps with three catches for 79 yards while JoJo McCarty made six catches for 75 yards and a touchdown and Jackson Likes had three catches for 23 yards.

Madison wraps up the regular season Friday, Oct. 17 by hosting Class 1A Milan (3-4) before playing Owen Valley (2-6) in the Class 3A Sectional 31 opener on Oct. 24 at Cub Field in Madison.

Corydon concludes its regular season and Mid-Southern Conference play on Friday when the Panthers travel face Silver Creek in Sellersburg. They then open Sectional 31 play at North Harrison (3-5) on Oct. 24.

CLASS 1A GIRLS SOCCER SECTIONAL

No. 1 Twisters flex muscles in 4-0 win over No. 5 Switz. girls

By DAVID CAMPBELL
MILAN — Switzerland County came into Thursday's sectional semifinal with a good game plan and a prepared team. Unfortunately that didn't matter much against Oldenburg Academy.

The top-ranked Twisters scored six minutes into the game and outshot Switzerland County by a 3-1 margin to post a 4-0 win in the Class A Girls Soccer Sectional semifinals at Milan Thursday.

Switzerland came into the game ranked fifth in the state and boasting a 13-3 record but that meant little in the face of powerful Oldenburg.

"They're the number one team in the state and you know, MaxPreps has them 12th overall in all classes. And they have played a tough schedule to be number one in the state," Switzerland coach David Todd said. "We believe that this is a team that we can can beat, but it's going to take an almost flawless game to do it. Two of their of their goals in the first half are goals that you don't see in high school soccer, to be honest with you, girls or boys. That first shot that that girl made might be the best high school shot, period."

Oldenburg's opening goal that Todd was referencing came off the foot of junior Claire Niese six minutes into the game. Niese has scored 50 goals this season and showed why on the opener, driving down the right side and firing a cross shot from 20 yards away on the run that curled over Switzerland goalie Lyndsay Snider and into the net.

"She made a shot that we think we defended pretty well," Todd said. "We were on her right foot. We know that she shoots that right foot. And she just had, I mean, it was just a beautiful shot."

Oldenburg (18-0-1) added two more goals before the first half had ended, one from Jayne Lamping in the 16th minute on a corner kick and another from Lydia Niese in the 28th minute. Oldenburg added one final goal in the 76th minute when Lydia Niese struck again.

Switzerland County had very few chances in the game but it did have some good looks at the net. Early on, the Pacers attacked and senior Emma Parsons hammered a shot that goalie Ellie Satterfield just did deflect away. Had that goal gone in, Switzerland would have taken a 1-0 lead and Todd said that might have made a huge difference.

If that goes in, it changes everything. Soccer is that way. If you get the momentum, it is huge," Todd said. "But (Oldenburg) earned that. They were the better team, but we are good enough to beat them on a given night. And that's what's nice about our team is they feel like they can play with anybody in the state on a given night. It just didn't work out tonight."

Oldenburg finished with 21 overall shots, 10 of which were on goal, to just seven attempts for Switzerland and four on goal. The Twisters also had six corner kicks to two by the Pacers. Snider stopped six shots and Satterfield stopped four.

Oldenburg advanced to the championship game where they hammered South Ripley 8-1 to win their second-straight sectional crown. The Twisters will head to 12th-ranked Monrovia (16-3) in the regional semifinals on Thursday.

Switzerland ends the season with a 13-4 record with all four losses coming to sectional champs: twice to Oldenburg and once each to Madison and Lawrenceburg. Todd knows that his team still has work to do but he was pleased with the season.

"We are very proud of this team. We told them at the start of the year that the sky's the limit with this team, and I truly believe that," Todd said. "These seven seniors leave with two sectional championships and I don't know what the overall record was, but it was a great record. This year, we had three regular season losses, all to ranked teams, Oldenburg, Madison and Lawrenceburg. We're building our schedule every year. Our schedule is getting tougher and tougher, and we have to do that to make these runs. And there's a lot of work to do ... we can compete with teams like that. We just have to keep working."

Switzerland sends seniors out with 71-0 rout of Brown County

By DAVID CAMPBELL
Switzerland County scored nearly every time it touched the ball and rolled to a school-record 71-0 win over Brown County at home Friday on senior night.

The Pacers, well-rested after South Decatur forfeited their game on Oct. 3, ran right over Brown County from the start. The defense limited the visiting Eagles to just four first downs in the first half and turned every one of those chances into touchdowns as Switzerland rolled up a 42-0 lead by halftime.

"It's tough because the boys are rust. We really only played varsity for one quarter at Edinburg (two weeks ago) and we didn't get to play last week because of the South Decatur cancellation," Switzerland coach Ryan Jesop said. "So this week, it was like we had to push through and with fall break, it was to be expected that there'd be a letdown. But that didn't for the touchdown and Bailey scored on a 7-yard keeper as the Pacers went ahead 42-0.

Switzerland then got one final gift touchdown right before the half when Brown County (1-7) fumbled on a punt attempt with 20 seconds to go. The Pacers took over on the 15-yard line with 11 seconds to go and Bailey attempted to get the ball to Holliday. The ball deflected off his hands but Young caught the carom and then raced the final 11 yards for the score.

The second half was played with a running clock but Switzerland still found time to score three more times.

The Pacers got a 58-yard touchdown run by Beck midway through the third quarter, a 14-yard run from Young late in the third and a 1-yard run by Keaton Mosley with five minutes to play for the final margin.

The 71 points are a new single game school record for five Pacers and the highest scoring margin in school history. The only drive the Pacers failed to score on was the final one when they took a knee.

Switzerland finishes the Mid-Indiana Conference portion of its schedule at 5-1, second only to third-ranked North Decatur. Jesop was pleased with the result.

"That's a historic thing for us. It's been a conference that we've been a part of before and we've never finished second," Jesop said. "If you count the South Decatur game, this is the first time we've won seven games. It's also a school record number of kids that we have in our program that played at Little League and it shows. We hope that we're moving in the right direction."

Switzerland County closes out the regular season next by traveling to Tecumseh (4-4) before opening Class 2A Sectional 48 play by hosting Salem (4-4) Oct. 24.

HOROSCOPE

OCT. 14

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Opportunities slide into darkness as stars do, today and tomorrow aren't days to act on anything important, but Thursday could be excellent. Align with the cosmic opportunities to make your efforts worth it instead of wasted.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Count to any number needed before you overreact to something in your living space — you could be getting a one-two punch today on triggers. Triggered or not, you're always accountable, learn to stay regulated and in your peace.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) An urge to say it isn't the same as knowing if it's wise to say it. Today and tomorrow, it's probably not. Rethink on Thursday or after. A duty doesn't care if recipients demonstrate enough gratitude every single day, it's still a duty.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Even if a financial matter feels like too hot a potato to keep quiet about, please do until Thursday or after. The likelihood of resolution is very low now and any attempt could make something worse. Extreme reactivity will pass.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) A cautious approach serves you well when stars are as dark as they are today and tomorrow. Go in slow, compute situations, be wise. Make no major decisions, meet no one new, don't launch anything. Thursday and Friday are much better days for everything.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Mutual support is how people make it through tough times, build your network with people who reciprocate, keep it strong by being there when it's your turn. Put a pin in a key conversation for a few days.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) A friend could be dramatic or truly in need. Getting through the daily stuff could continue to feel like a real slog for a while longer but eventually the load will feel lighter. Avoid any financial maneuvering until Thursday or after. SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) Keeping dysregulated emotions out of the public eye is always a wise idea — do your process work at home or with the most trusted people, keep it cool around a wider circle. Everyone loses it once in a while, but some like to judge.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) People's reactions could be over the top, too much stellar shrapnel is flying around today and tomorrow. Weather dark stars by keeping risks managed and not starting anything new. Later this week the sun comes out again.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Some kind of money pressure may be applied but you can say 'no' and should, at least until stars improve later this week. Even with better stars, still do all your homework. So much is lining up and coming into focus for you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Don't take advice from someone with a poorer understanding of the situation than you have. Far better to wait until Thursday or beyond anyway for stars to dramatically improve. Better stars = better outcomes for everything.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) Not every day brings a great mood but you are not your day-to-day moods. Stellar influences are always changing, your personal vibe will be affected less as you solidify and ground into your own authentic frequency.

Today's solution

HOROSCOPE

OCT. 15

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Today is the lowest-scoring day of 2025. Poor days pass right by you when you avoid decisions, major actions, and first meetings on the worst-scoring days. Stars tomorrow and Friday pop way up to bring much more support for whatever you do.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Timing affects more than just choosing a great day for starting a new business or getting married, the patterns in the sky influence thinking and feelings too. Shut down intrusive thoughts, they're unlikely to lead you to any good today.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Problems are better solved through quiet analysis and logic than through high emotion. If a discussion begins to escalate, table it until tomorrow or Friday. Keep things simple and slow to help mitigate the risks in today's dark and chaotic stars.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) A mel-low, grounded mindset is the best way to meet unpredictable days when stars are below zero. Use caution, be wise, initiate nothing, and tomorrow is another day — a much better one! New ideas arising today should probably be discarded.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Emotions could be hyper-intense for a while today, don't take any action based on overwhelming feelings, you should be in much better balance tomorrow. Some rebellion on the home front could be a thing.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Process issues behind the scenes, you may need to today. Poor stars could mean you vent or cry to the wrong people, better to keep things private. Find comfort at your home or with your closest inner circle of friends.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) A friend could appear to cry wolf, though the concern may be very real to them in the moment. It's a day to tread carefully, today has the worst odds of all of 2025. Keep things simple, don't start anything new. Tomorrow is a much better day.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) A measured response will be best but that could be hard to define today. If in doubt, play it very safe and minimize exposure and risk. Tomorrow and Friday bring much better opportunity days for new beginnings.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Sometimes acting out of the best intentions can turn around and bite you, today could be one of those days. Present yourself and your ideas calmly and clearly, but don't let a surprising response come as a surprise.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Running with anything that's bothering you is likely to be a mistake today. Whatever it is, today has the lowest odds of making something a success or bringing a resolution in all of 2025. Wise ones wait for best stars.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Sidestep an issue with a housemate or partner on days when odds are horrible for making anything better, like today. Tomorrow you'll have a much better shot at getting something clarified and worked out.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) Strong emotions could get in the way of getting things done under today's influences. Take a pause, slow it down, take a few breaths, re-orient yourself, re-think what is really needed, and come back to what is most important.

REBELS

That goal seemed to relax the Rebels, who quickly took over from there. Southwestern's second goal, also by Johnson off a cross pass from Higgins less than two minutes into the second half, all but sealed the win.

"Our big thing is always starting the games with energy, and we did an OK job, but it was just kind of maintaining, maintaining. And then about 20 minutes in, that's when we started to take the game over," Rogers said. "We watched a lot of film, and one thing we noticed is that having that early cross works a lot of the time. We did it against Southwestern (on Wednesday), and did it again today."

The Rebels' final two goals came in quick succession. In the 66th minute, Higgins sent a corner kick into the box that Adith Arunsanhar headed in for a 3-0 lead. Higgins then got into the act two minutes later when he beat the Trinity defense down the field and hammered a shot home from close range for the final margin.

"I want to give a shout out to Jaxon Higgins. Having three assists and a goal in a sectional championship game as a freshman is a big deal, and that's not easy to do," Rogers said.

Southwestern finished the game with a 24-13 advantage in overall shots, but 12-4 in shots on goal as the Rebels put half of their attempts on frame. The Rebels also had three corner kicks to Trinity's four while Southwestern goalie Warren stopped four shots and Trinity keeper Ezra VanCurren stopped eight.

"Tryson does a really good job back there and does a great job of being locked in, even though the game's not always on top of him," Rogers said. "And when you've got Elliot (Brooks) back there too, he can just erase a lot of mistakes. He's a great safety net. Both of them are fantastic."

The championship was Southwestern's sixth in school history and third in the past five years. The Rebels will now take on eighth-ranked Oldenburg Academy (11-4-4) in the regional semifinals on Wednesday, a game that will be played at Madison Consolidated High School.

Several players on this team were on the Rebels' regional runner-up squad from two years ago and Rogers hopes that experience aids Southwestern Wednesday.

With this group, I'm confident against any team we play. It doesn't matter if they're 1A or 4A or whatever it is. I'm very confident with this group of kids," Rogers said. "We do have a lot of kids that played in that regional a couple years ago, and then we've also just developed some new players with a lot of skills. So I think we'll be in a good spot coming into regional."
